

From: Adam M McCready
Sent: Monday, July 21, 2014 11:26 AM
To: Dylan J Hallman
Subject: Re: Information Request Conversation

Dylan,

Thanks for the prompt response. To answer your question, the Institute will not be providing you with the requested documents. I would be happy to provide a rationale in person or over the phone.

Sincerely,
Adam

--

Adam McCready
MIT Residential Life & Dining
Assistant Director of FSILGs
Division of Student Life | Residential Life & Dining
201 Vassar Street Cambridge, MA 02139
Office: W59-209 | Phone: 617.258.5490
Facsimile: 617.258.8163
Website Tumblr MIT Connect

Pronouns: he, him, his

From: Dylan J Hallman <dhallman@mit.edu>
Date: Monday, July 21, 2014 2:20 PM
To: Adam McCready <mccready@mit.edu>
Subject: RE: Information Request Conversation

Hi Adam,

I hope your summer is going well! I am unable to come into the office during the week, as I am working downtown for the summer. If there is something that needs to be discussed I am happy to hop on the phone with you. However, I am confused as to why a conversation is necessary. Is there a reason why the documents cannot be mailed or emailed directly as requested?

Thanks for your time.

Best.

Dylan Hallman

From: Adam M McCready
Sent: Monday, July 21, 2014 11:02 AM
To: Dylan J Hallman
Subject: Information Request Conversation

Dylan,

I am writing you in response to your request for information regarding MIT's internal investigation of Delta Upsilon this past spring. I would be happy to talk with you about this request. Are you free to meet in person at any point this week? If so, what days and times work in your calendar? I look forward to talking with you.

Sincerely,
Adam

--

Adam McCready

MIT Residential Life & Dining

Assistant Director of FSILGs

Division of Student Life | Residential Life & Dining

201 Vassar Street Cambridge, MA 02139

Office: W59-209 | Phone: 617.258.5490

Facsimile: 617.258.8163

Website Tumblr MIT Connect

Pronouns: he, him, his